2-CENT LOCAL RATE IS GRANTED BY RAILROADS

Central, A. & W. P. and Georgia Give Concession on Penny Scrip and Mileage

A dispatch from J. C. Hille, general passenger agent of the Central of Georgia railway, sent Tuesday morning from Savannah to The Journal, announced an important new concession by that railroad to the traveling public.

The announcement was to the effect that on and after July 1, interchangeable penny scrip books (form 22) will be accepted for local travel as well as other points, at their face value of cents per mile.

Heretofore the penny scrip has not been accepted at the 2-cent value by the Central for local transportation—that is, between points on its own system exclusively; and interchangeable mileage has not been accepted at all for travel between local points.

This means substantially that after July 1 a traveler can buy a ticket from Atlanta to Jonesboro, for instance, with penny scrip coupons at their face value or with interchangeable mileage coupons at their face value—the equivalent of each being 2 cents per mile. Heretofore a ticket between these two points has been sold for scrip at the rate of 2 1/2 cents per mile, discounting the 20 per cent reduction at which the purchase was made.

In other words, the scrip holder lost his advantage in travel between local points. The Atlanta-Jonesboro illustration will apply to any other points local to the Central system.

To competitive points such as Macon, the Atlanta traveler has been able to exchange his coupons at the rate of 2 cents per mile, and at a lesser rate, because competitive rates on other railroads made this possible.

This announcement by the Central was almost simultaneous with a similar announcement in behalf of the Atlanta and West Point and the Georgia railways, by officials of those roads in Atlanta. The concession to be granted by the Central is to be granted by them also.

"The management of the Central of Georgia railway authorize the announcement," said Mr. Hille's dispatch, "on account of the large amount of work necessary to compile and publish tariffs and file them with the interstate commerce commission. It is impracticable to put this arrangement into effect earlier than July 1. Coupons from these books will be accepted at ticket offices for passage tickets in accordance with prevailing general regulations."

In this step by the Central, and the Atlanta and West Point and the Georgia roads, the program suggested by the traveling men in their recent compromise before the state railroad commission is brought to even greater success than was scored by that compromise.

The compromise established what is known now as the "stop-over" ticket, which a traveler now is permitted to buy with mileage coupons to an objective point some distance away, the privilege being his to stop at any point between his start and his destination.

R. A. Broyles, originator of the stop-over ticket compromise, declared Tuesday morning the concession just made by the three railroads was one of two propositions which he submitted in writing and together, the railroad, the other being the stop-over ticket plan. At the time that compromise was accepted and he, the railroad informed him and the other workers that they were holding the suggestion in abeyance, for further consideration, that mileage and penny scrip coupons taken at their face value for local travel.

"We have won the approval of the railroads now on both propositions," said he. "They have seen the eminent fairness of what we asked, and have been just enough to grant it. The commercial traveling men will benefit immensely by these privileges."

ATTACK ON CONFEDERACY STIRS UP THE D. A. R.

Members Resent Criticism of Daughters Who Wore Both Emblems

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, April 21.—The National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, today settled down to the consideration of routine business. Yesterday's sessions witnessed several remarkable scenes. The features were an attack on a daughter wearing the emblem of the Daughters of the Confederacy with the Daughters of the American Revolution insignia.

Resolutions were adopted pledging the president the society's support in event of war and prohibiting the mentioning of controversial questions that might cause dissension in the ranks of the society, such as suffrage, liquor or other similar subjects.

The reading of a letter from George A. Miller, of Chicago, who describes himself as a member of the society of the Sons of the Revolution, protesting against the action of a daughter who he alleged had worn a daughter of the American Revolution insignia beside one of the Daughters of the Confederacy, which he declared was an "outrageous" degradation of the principles of the Daughters of the American Revolution society," provoked wild excitement.

TROOPS WIN BLOODY BATTLE WITH MINERS

Strikers Retire After Desperate Fight in Which at Least Ten Were Slain

(By Associated Press.)
TRINIDAD, Colo., April 21.—Hundreds of armed strikers, who yesterday fought fourteen hours with state troops in the Ludlow district, had disappeared this morning and quiet prevailed in and about the strikers' demolished tent colony.

The 100 militiamen who opposed the strikers were in possession of the railroad tracks from Lamar and Walsenburg swelled the number of soldiers on the ground to 160.

The list of identified dead was increased to five and it seems certain at least as many more fell in yesterday's fighting.

The identified dead:
A. MARTIN, private company A First regiment, Denver.
LOUIS TIKAS, leader of the Greek strikers, Ludlow colony.
EDWARD FLYTZ, secretary of the Ludlow union.

CHARLES COSTA, Aquilar union leader.
FRANK SNYDER, aged twelve, two small children perished in the blaze that razed the colony at 3 o'clock last night and the bodies of other strikers are said to be still lying on the field of battle.

CHARGE MAYOR PROTECTS THE A. B. & A. RAILROAD

Council Members Accuse Him
of Using Position to Save
Road From Paying

That Mayor Woodward is using his official position to protect the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad, by which he is privately employed, from paying sewer and sidewalk assessments on its property in Atlanta, was the charge made on the floor of council Monday afternoon by Councilman James Lee and Alderman J. W. Maddox, of the fifth ward.

It was declared that a sewer assessment of $1 against the railroad amounting to $2,000, which is now in the hands of the city marshal for collection, has been withheld by the marshal and stands against the railroad, because the mayor has advised the railroad not to pay it and because the city marshal has hesitated to proceed for fear of incurring the mayor's official displeasure.

It was further declared that for a special privilege, when private individuals are compelled to pay their assessments regardless of how limited may be their means, on pain of having their property levied upon and sold by the city, is a gross injustice.

Several sidewalk and sewer assessments which the mayor had vetoed, were passed notwithstanding his veto, that he vetoed them for the above reason, on account of the issue being raised against them.

The mayor's veto of the 1914 sidewalk contract, which council had awarded to the Central Stone and Tile company, was finally allowed to stand after a long discussion, and a new resolution was passed awarding the contract to that company. A special committee appointed to go to the mayor's office and confer with him brought back the report that he would approve the new resolution but would fight the contract in the supreme court if council overrode his veto of the original resolution.

The mayor's veto of the sale of the old Edgewood lighting plant property to J. Farmer for $4,000 was sustained. The mayor vetoed the sale because the Georgia Cotton Oil company claimed that at the last moment and offered $5,000 for the property. Several council members contended that the city, under the circumstances, was morally bound to stand by its trade with Farmer. They were in the majority, the vote in council being 11 to 6, but lacked the two-thirds majority necessary to override.

An ordinance was passed which provides that all real estate practicing physicians shall have access to Grady hospital and another ordinance was passed which provides that the mayor, in the event the proposed $750,000 bond issue for Grady hospital is authorized by the voters on May 5, shall be authorized to name six citizens who shall act as a commission to advise with the Grady trustees and the general council in the expenditure of the bond money.

HERE, then, is the best news of ready-to-wear you have read over our name this season. It has to do with our recent New York purchases. Because the dress and suit makers must turn to work on their contracts for July and August, our buyer was able to buy their surplus spring stocks at prices approximating half. See the amazing values in our show windows.

PLEASE consider that all these suits and dresses are new; that they embody the latest style touches. With few exceptions all are shown tomorrow for the first time. The exceptions are suits and dresses, from the same makers, which were bought for regular stock. Where styles are at all similar, they have been marked down to conform in price with these new arrivals.

Sale starts Wednesday at 8:30 A.M. Extra salespeople will be in attendance: Sale prices prohibit exchanges, refunds for credit or C.O.D.'s. Here is the detail.

Skirts with silk tunics are in high favor; many of these skirts are so trimmed. Moire trimmings are called for;

moire trimmings are here. Scarcely a fashionable feature that one could mention that is not represented. Styles as picturesque as you please; and the more severely tailored suits also. Swelled in numbers, the wrecking

FIND A WOODEN EGG

Many Gifts in Addition to the Regular Eggs Will Be Given

Away at Big Egg Hunt

In addition to the 250,000 eggs which will be hidden in Grant park next Saturday for the children of Atlanta, there will be a number of prize eggs, which will entitle the finders to prizes given by merchants of Atlanta.

The prize eggs are made of wood, and have numbers burned on them. These numbers correspond with the numbers of the prizes. The children finding the wooden eggs will bring them to the bandstand near the refreshment pavilion, away from the crowd, and give the orders on the merchants, and on presenting these orders they will get their prizes.

And in addition to the $20,000,000 egg and the prize money, there will be the grand prize golden egg. It is a very large egg made of metal in two pieces. It is hollow on the inside and contains a $5 gold piece. It was made by James M. Hollowell, who is a well-known Atlanta children and makes the golden egg every year.

Don't forget the date—next Saturday, April 25. Special cars will be run to accommodate the large crowds. The egg hunt will start at 9 o'clock. A band of 50 pieces will take a position on the top of a hill in the center of the hunt grounds, and when it plays "Dixie" the children will be let across the grounds. The egg hunt is a very popular annual affair for the children of Atlanta given by The Journal and the Park commission.
